

Intelligent Corporate Solutions TRAINING

Oracle Application Hands on Experience

Oracle Applications Training

Intelligent Corporate Solutions (ICS) provides Applications training and task-specific training to the Oracle end users. The ICS team includes instructors who can deliver training on the complete range of Oracle Applications. They have the practical business experience to integrate new business processes into a material such that the end-users can profit from a complete training experience that prepares them to use Oracle Applications immediately.

Intelligent Corporate Solutions also provides detailed Oracle Applications training to various implementation teams and other consultants in a classroom setting or in informal groups.

The Oracle E-Business Suite

A term recently brought into common use by Oracle is the E-Business Suite, which covers virtually all Oracle 11i applications. In other words, it includes ERP, CRM and all others. If you are looking for training or training materials on E-Business Suite, ERP or CRM, you are in the right place.

Oracle Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and Oracle Enterprise Accounting are two phrases that encompass many Oracle Applications in the areas of Finance, Procurement, Order Management, Manufacturing and Engineering. Oracle Customer Relationship Management (CRM) is used to cover Sales and Service Applications.

When looking for training, it is important to know which of the dozens of applications within the E-Business Suite your organization is implementing.

ICS has an unrivaled library of training courseware. Give us a call to discuss your requirements.

Custom Courseware Development

Intelligent Corporate Solutions provides a full range of Oracle Applications training courseware development services. We develop materials in Tutor, Word, HTML, PowerPoint and many other formats to suit our clients' requirements.

Our courseware developers are experts in designing the courseware for instructor-led training which is a delight to the students and is also useful as a "how to" document for future reference. We have written hundreds of classes for other clients, many of them probably similar to what you need. We will even work with your implementation team to customize our courseware to your own business processes and Oracle set-up. It will be tailored to your end-users' needs and will be for your future reference.

Oracle Tutor

ICS offers training in Oracle Tutor at Beginner, Intermediate and advanced levels. We are also very experienced in converting existing documentation to Oracle Tutor format or working with your people to document your business processes in Tutor from the outset. If you are having difficulty with a lack of content in Oracle Tutor, we can probably fill the gap.

Technical Documentation

Whether your needs are for the documentation of technical procedures or specialized training documents, ICS can help. Our technical team is fluent in Unix, C, C++, Oracle, Java and many more computer software products. Amazingly, they write good English too!

Importance of Training

The backbone of any company are its people no matter how efficient your systems are. If your users are not empowered to utilize the system your company will not derive the maximum benefit. Whether it is during an Oracle implementation or during one of our specialized course we ensure that people trained at our facilities leave with renewed confidence to master the systems they will use in their work environment. To this end we have developed our own training methodology used on our own consultants and adequately fine tuned to offer the same level of refinement to our clients during implementations and any of our specialist courses.

Our array of courses cover all the areas in which we offer consultancy including Oracle ERP, Financials, Distributions, HR, Property Manager, Business Intelligence, etc.
